

To whom it may concern:

I started riding about a year ago, after some lessons and falling in love with horses I ventured in buying my own horse. That's when I found Bocelli and Shayan.

Shayan had Bocci for about a year and was training him and helping selling him. I fell in love with Bocelli, a half Frisian half PRE gelding at first look, but I was also very impressed with Shayan. He is outstanding as a trainer and his horses have perfect ground manners, are supple, balanced have a hardworking attitude and very sensitive!

I bought Bocelli, but I also started taking lessons with him. Since I am 3 hours away from Davis, I had to do an intensive couple of weekend lessons, and after 3 weekends my riding skills changed from a green rider to a very confident, with a solid seat and most important of all, having a lot of fun kind of rider!!

He makes sure to stress the importance of riding correctly for the benefit of the horse and the rider's safety.

I can't thank Shayan enough. His technique and knowledge are impressive.
